

INT. DAY

A waits. B enters.

A
This isn't safe. It isn't safe.

What choice do you think we have?
If they could have thought of something else, they would have.

Does it rain in Moscow in the winter?

You're not really going to make me to say it. Signs and countersigns.
What are you? Some kind of schoolyard James Bond?

Say it or don't say it. Does it rain in Moscow in the winter?

This is insane. They'll be here any minute and you're playing cops and robbers! Gimme the damn microchip!

A
Yeah. That's what I thought.

A leaves.

(calling after A)
You'll be dead by sundown. You know that, don't you? Dead.
