

INT. DAY

A waits. B enters.

A (apprehensive)
What's up? Why aren't we meeting in the room?

B shrugs.

B Sometimes, it's easier to say things... I don't know... where there are people around to... keep everybody polite.

A
Polite? I'm not polite?

B Yeah. Except when... I don't know.

B watches A intently for a beat before...

B
What if... What would you do if I told you I was gay?

(relieved)
Oh, thank God.

B Huh?

A
I said "Thank God." I thought you were gonna tell me you were Canadian. Listen, I got class.
See ya.

Bewildered, B watches A exit.
