

BURNED TONGUE

by

BRIAN FULLER

250111A

FADE IN:

A

(with tongue out)

I burned my tongue. Did I burn my tongue?

(retracts tongue
and speaks normally)

I think I burned my tongue

B

It's your body's strongest muscle.

A

What is?

B

Your tongue. Pound for pound it's the body's strongest muscle.

A

Pound for pound? How heavy is yours? I think I burned mine. Did I burn it?

B

Well, it's pink. Kinda burn-colored, I guess.

A

It's pink. It's a tongue.

B

You think you could, like, lift weights with it?

A

What?

B

The strongest muscle. You think you could lift, I dunno, a one-pound lead weight with your tongue? I mean, without swallowing it on accident?

A

By accident.

B

I heard about a lady who swallowed her tongue.

A

She swallowed her tongue?

B

With a ham sandwich. Went right down her sarcophagus.

A

Esophagus.

B

Esophagus. That's what I said.

A

You said "sarcophagus."

B

Sarcophagus? That's an ancient Egyptian coffin. Why would I say that?

A

Maybe because you burned your tongue.

CREDITS