Chickens

A
What did you just say to me?

B
I said cockle-doodle-do-

A
I fucking hate chickens! Shut the fuck up!

C
Says the person that just gorged themselves on a thing of chicken.

A
I hate chickens. I hate chickens as a concept.

C
What did they do to you?

B
As a Concept. Wh-what did you mean as a concept-

A
You know what's funny-?

B
What do you mean as a concept?!

A
-I actually fucking hate chickens because they are nasty creatures. I hate to deal with them. I-I just had a really bad experience around chickens.

C
I heard that the babies taste good-

B
What-

A Shut Up! I had to - I literally had to build a chicken coop and without help and that was a fucking nightmare.

B
Yeah- no- that would get you- yeah. That checks out.

A

Not only that, not only that, but I had to clean the damn thing. That was disgusting. I had to- I was responsible for the chickens, so I had to clean it. It was a nightmare. I had to take care of their eggs. I had to-

C

Did you eat the babies-

A

No, I didn't eat the fucking babies! What is wrong with you?

C

Nothing!

B

You're the one that hates chicken as a concept.

C

I bet you ate the babies. And that's not a compliment.

A

I didn't! And why would that be a compliment!?
